

Dear donor naming,

It has been a little more than two months since I was blessed to receive your loved one's liver. I am so very sorry for your loss your generous gift has been nothing short of an amazing miracle.

Many years ago while working in the health care field, trying to help others, I received a needle stick. At the time nothing appeared to be wrong. Some time later I discovered that my liver lab tests were high. More recently I tried medical treatment, but this only made me sicker. My last hope was a transplant. Your family answered my prayers.

Not only is this a wonderful gesture on your part for me personally, but also for my daughter. I learned very early in her life that she required a special needs program to help her to communicate and learn. Now that she is a young adult, I can see all the great strides she has made with the help of her special teachers and 100% family support.

To know that I now have a good chance to continue to be with her and help her as she tries to gain some measure of independence, is the greatest gift you have given to me as a father. →

I thank you again and bless you for allowing me to receive your loved one's liver. I am doing my very best to treat it as ^{the} life giving gift it is.

Bill
